Regeneron Provides Update on Patent Litigation Against Formycon

Regeneron has reached resolution of our patent infringement litigation related to the Formycon EYLEA® (aflibercept) Injection 2 mg biosimilar product. The settlement allows Formycon to launch its biosimilar product in the U.S. in the fourth quarter of 2026. All intellectual property-related litigation in the U.S. with Formycon will be dismissed. The financial and other terms of the agreement are confidential.

Regeneron has invested many years of effort into its design and development of EYLEA and remains committed to actively enforcing its intellectual property rights.

About Regeneron

Regeneron (NASDAQ: REGN) is a leading biotechnology company that invents, develops and commercializes life-transforming medicines for people with serious diseases. Founded and led by physician-scientists, our unique ability to repeatedly and consistently translate science into medicine has led to numerous approved treatments and product candidates in development, most of which were homegrown in our laboratories. Our medicines and pipeline are designed to help patients with eye diseases, allergic and inflammatory diseases, cancer, cardiovascular and metabolic diseases, neurological diseases, hematologic conditions, infectious diseases, and rare diseases.

Regeneron pushes the boundaries of scientific discovery and accelerates drug development using our proprietary technologies, such as VelociSuite®, which produces optimized fully human antibodies and new classes of bispecific antibodies. We are shaping the next frontier of medicine with data-powered insights from the Regeneron Genetics Center® and pioneering genetic medicine platforms, enabling us to identify innovative targets and complementary approaches to potentially treat or cure diseases.
